It's not just a conference, it's a community.

Connect and Collaborate: Attend over 170 sessions Thursday through Sunday and share experiences in both practice and research. The ADAA Conference is unique for conversation, learning and connections – all with the goal of providing better treatment and discovering cures.

It's also an excellent opportunity to earn continuing education credit as you connect with old friends and get valuable one-on-one time with the leaders in your field.

Change the Future.

ADAA is an international nonprofit organization dedicated to the prevention, treatment, and cure of anxiety, depressive, obsessive-compulsive, and trauma-related disorders through education, practice, and research. The ADAA Conference brings together a diverse network of more than 1,300 basic and clinical anxiety and depression researchers with diverse backgrounds in medicine, psychology, social work, counseling, nursing, neuroscience, genetics, epidemiology, and other disciplines to advance science and new treatments and to one day prevent and cure these disorders.
